

IN A FOG

Tow-Boat With Loaded Coal Boats Strikes the Bank.

Twenty Barges Go Down Immediately and Others Swept Away.

Few Are Expected That the Crew of Twenty-Nine Men Are Lost. The Boats Which Were Bound for the Mouth of the Ohio, Belong to Pittsburgh Firms.

HAWESVILLE, Ky., Jan. 15.—Between 5 and 6 o'clock Monday morning, in a dense fog, the towboat bank, with thirty loaded coal boats, rounded the bend here, struck the bank, The fleet went to pieces. The boat's wheel and machinery were damaged, and the boat keeled over to leeward. The crew became frantic and climbed onto the barges. Twenty barges went down immediately, and the others drifted off at night, jammed, and are going to pieces in the ice.

The boat drifted by lying on one side, evidently up to leeward. Every steamer here and at Cannelton, opposite, sounded distress whistles. Citizens of both towns were terror-stricken, and great excitement now prevails. The boats belonged to Chas. Lepper and others, of Pittsburgh, and the crew of that boat, about 10 o'clock, not a word had been heard from the boats or the twenty-nine men who were on them. The fleet was en route to the Mississippi.

TELL CITY, Ind., Jan. 15.—Four men on a broken barge drifted by here, crying for help, but no aid arrived to reach them.

OVERBORO, Ky., Jan. 15.—The river is being watched at all points for barge and crew. One barge broken in two drifted by here at dark, but nothing whatever has been heard of the men or remainder of the boats, and there are fears that they are all perished. The river is full of thick, heavy ice and a thick fog prevails. The steamer Tell City passed down at 1 o'clock. She reports that she was jammed in the ice at Cannelton, but succeeded in getting to the bank and waited until Monday afternoon, when she came on. Nothing was seen or heard of the missing boats and crew.

IN SUNDAY VALLEY.

Great suffering at Oakdale, Hollister and other towns.

HOLLISTER, O., Jan. 15.—Terrible calamity has befallen this town, which is much suffering in the Sunday Creek valley since the suspension of work last summer. Many only about wintering expenses. The town is now in a state of destitution. The people are without clothing to keep them warm, or sufficient food to make them strong enough to work. A committee was appointed Saturday night to receive and distribute supplies. Sunday telegram announced that help was coming. The help is anxiously awaited, and will be carefully distributed by our committee.

Autopsy on Reia. ELVIRA, O., Jan. 15.—Reia seems little doubt that Mrs. Jacob Reia of Lorain, administered poison to her husband, though the woman protests her innocence. She was arrested and brought to the county jail here Saturday night, accompanied by her three-year-old babe. Mrs. Reia is the first female prisoner in the jail here has held. The Lorain authorities and the county prosecutor and coroner are determined that a thorough investigation shall be had, and Reia's grave opened and the body, which is well preserved, taken to an undertaking establishment, where an autopsy will be held Tuesday. The contents of the stomach will be examined by experts.

Robbers at Steubenville, O. STEUBENVILLE, O., Jan. 15.—Monday morning it was discovered that the mail had been saved off a rear window of the Smithfield National bank, by burglars. COTTON FACTORS ASSAILED.

The Southern Movement Has Its Effect Among the Factors.

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 15.—The southern movement of cotton industries, which have affected Massachusetts, is also felt in New Hampshire. On Tuesday Representative Thurber of this city will introduce a bill in the legislature at Concord similar to those introduced in Massachusetts in the interest of the Lowell mills. It will ask that the duties on cotton be permitted to increase to $200,000, and that the Nashua Co. be allowed to increase its capital stock from $600,000 to $1,300,000, and that the Nashua Co. be allowed to increase its capital stock from $600,000 to $1,300,000. The bill also asks the right to build mills in any state in the United States. These companies have been manufacturing of heavy goods that have come in competition with southern mills. It is understood that with the additional capital mills are to be at once built in the south to manufacture sheetings, etc. The mills here will change their product to fine yarns, and the southern mills will retain their ownership and when the action of their officials is made public it will create considerable excitement in the Merrimack river valley.

FRENCH CRISIS.

Radical and Socialist Element Succeed in Overthrowing the Moderate Republican Government as Represented by Dupuy Cabinet.

The Crisis Has Been Imminent for Months and Was Precipitated by a Great Issue, Not by a Comparatively Trivial Question—New Cabinet on Foot.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The radical and socialist elements in the chamber of deputies succeeded in overthrowing the moderate republican government as represented by the Dupuy cabinet. The crisis has been imminent for months and was precipitated by a great issue, not by a comparatively trivial question—New Cabinet on Foot.

There was the customary stormy scene, and several divisions were taken. In the last of which the government found itself in a minority. The premier then took up the unprecedented course of announcing from the tribune that the ministers could no longer remain in office. The cabinet thereupon left the chamber for the Elysee, and the session was suspended. The fall of the first cabinet of Casimir-Perier's administration is no ordinary ministerial crisis. It is the first substantial success in the bitter campaign which has been waged against the president himself almost since his inauguration. It records the triumph of allied radicalism and socialism over republicanism in the national legislature of France, and is one of several other signs of the times here which led the London Times, Monday, to remark that the country is in an abnormal state which can almost be called revolutionary.

Casimir-Perier's anti-radical views are well known. It has been said many times of late by those who were supposed to represent his opinions that he would never consent to preside over a radical or socialist government. It was affirmed that he would resign or appeal to the president for the dissolution of the chamber rather than offer the premier's portfolio to such a man as the present president of the chamber. It remains to be seen whether the friends of Perier are right. He must invite Briere to form a cabinet or lead the senate to dissolve the popular branch.

rumor said Monday night that the president had already summoned the radicals to form a cabinet. This is probably true, for it is customary for the chief of state to consult the presidents of both houses on such occasions. But the rumor adds that Briere refused to undertake to make a cabinet himself, and advised delegating the task to Leon Bourgeois. It is added that Lockroy, Harcourt, Carnot and Bourgeois will be included in the new ministry. If this proves true, the struggle will simply be renewed with increased bitterness. The enemies of Casimir-Perier are implacable, and nothing short of the distinct voice of the country in his favor, obtained through dissolution, will check the chamber against him.

Jury Scandal at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—In Judge Horton's court Monday morning the state was to have opened the case against ex-Poolemen Moran and Tealy, who are charged with the murder of William Harrison, but in his chambers sensational disclosures of a conspiracy to corrupt the jury were made, and he adjourned the trial until Tuesday, one of the jurors, who is acquainted with the defendants, is accused of perjury. Bailiff L. Schillinghouse, who summoned him, is under suspicion.
